PRESS RELEASE – January 19, 2017

HHT EARNS BEST LIVE THEATRE VENUE AWARD

Prestigious awards continue to accumulate for the valley's dynamic Historic Hemet Theatre. The latest award is from Inland Empire Magazine, awarding the Foundation "2017 Best of Inland Empire" for "Best Live Theatre Venue."

For nearly 40 years, Inland Empire Magazine has distinguished itself as the premier magazine in the Inland Empire. Its "Best Of" awards are based on votes by its readers throughout Riverside and San Bernardino Counties.

The award is the just the latest in a string of accolades earned by HHT in their three years of operations. Beginning in 2015, the Hemet/San Jacinto Valley Chamber presented the Foundation with its "Non-Profit of the Year" Award. The following year, The San Jacinto Chamber awarded HHT with their "Business of the Year" Award.

Susan Carrier, CEO of the Foundation, has also been recognized for her leadership at the Foundation. Last year, the Hemacinto Chapter of the American Business Women's Association presented Susan with an award as "Business Professional of the Year" and State Senator Mike Morrell selected Susan as a finalist for the annual "Women of Distinction" Awards.

On Saturday January 21st at 7:00 pm, HHT launches its new concert series with a dynamic tribute to Queen featuring the #1 band in the country, Queen Nation.
