HHT ANNOUNCES NEW SERIES OF ONLINE CONCERTS

While the Historic Hemet Theatre waits for officials to permit the venue to reopen, HHT has announced a series of online concerts, featuring recordings of their live shows from the past few years.

The concerts will be broadcast on YouTube Premier each Saturday night at 7 pm, starting June 13th. Viewers can subscribe to the theatre's YouTube Channel for links to upcoming shows.

The live broadcast will last about an hour. During the broadcast, fans can use the chat feature to connect with each other. Band members are also invited to attend and take questions in the chat. The recording will be available in the HHT Channel for 48 hours only. Donations collected during the video series campaign will be shared with the bands to help them survive the Covid-19 closure.
